Janette Simms Elected Vice President of the Art League of Long Island Board of Directors

Current Art League of Long Island Board Member Janette Simms has been elected to the post of Vice President. Her extensive experience in strategic planning combined with her artistic talents provides a well-rounded perspective to the Board's leadership team.

Janette Simms has had more than 25 years of leadership experience in healthcare strategy development encompassing market and feasibility studies, acquisition and affiliation planning, regional health planning, facility master planning, and group process facilitation. Janette worked for several large hospitals and health systems, then for a major healthcare consulting firm, and finally as an independent consultant. After retirement Janette became an active painting student at the Art League, fulfilling a promise she made to herself to pursue her passion to create art.

Janette currently resides in Mineola.

Established in 1955, the Art League of Long Island, located in Dix Hills, is a not-for-profit visual arts organization offering classes and workshops for children and adults, from beginner to advanced levels. Their art gallery hosts a dozen exhibits per year, featuring contemporary works by many local artists. For information about classes, exhibits, and events call (631) 462-5400 or visit www.artleagueli.org.
